The Scottish Railway Preservation Society

The Scottish Railway Preservation Society (SRPS) is a Charitable Company that was formed to preserve Scotland's fast changing railway heritage. The Society operates the Museum of Scottish Railways, and Bo'ness & Kinneil Railway, where the gems of its Collection can be seen in action. It seeks the support of all who value the history and traditions of Scottish Railway Heritage. New Members are always welcome. Membership is open to individuals and families.

SRPS Aims -

- ♦ To preserve locomotives, rolling stock, other equipment and relics of railways in Scotland
- ♦ To advance and promote the education of all on the use of Railways for the movement of goods and people
- ♦ To manage, house, conserve and document a Collection of specimens of historical, artistic or scientific importance
- ♦ To display and publicise the Collection for the public benefit; permitting access to research workers and school children
- ♦ To preserve and exhibit Scotland's Railway Heritage in a working setting.

Members Benefits -

- ♦ The Society's "Blastpipe" magazine
- ♦ Free admission to the Museum of Scottish Railways
- ♦ Members own vouchers for travel on the Bo'ness & Kinneil Railway (Not transferable; T&Cs apply; not valid on Special events/ Special Premium Fare Events)
- ♦ Participation in Society activities subject to rules and competency
- ♦ Adult members can vote at General Meetings
- ♦ Adult Members can be nominated for election to the Board.

Members Opportunities -

The Bo'ness & Kinneil Railway and Museum is maintained, operated and developed by the Society's Volunteer Members. We realise that not all members may wish or are able to become actively involved in the Society's activities. However if you would like to, why not convert your enthusiasm into an activity by becoming a Volunteer. Contact details are included in the Membership Pack.
